

Team Meal Expectations and Guidelines 2016 FRC Season

To be read and signed by Student and Parent/Legal Guardian

1. Signing-up for a Meal Date:

- Each Student on the Team must provide one complete meal for the team, regardless of whether or not the student will be consuming the meals provided. Any student who does not provide a meal may have membership revoked.
- An online meal sign-up is available on the Team Documents section of the Team Hub, and slots will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Please do not edit the meal assignments of other Team Members.
- Families wishing to switch meal dates must gain approval from Brandi before switching, and then are responsible for arranging a date trade and communicating with another family.
- Please examine the meals already offered, and strive to provide a variety of foods. We don't want the same thing every weekend.
- Student/Families must sign up for their meal on or before December 14, 2015, or membership on the Team may be forfeited.
- Additional meal dates may be available, and Team Members may choose to sign up for another meal. E-mail will be used to communicate ongoing needs for meals.

2. Guidelines for Providing Team Meals:

- Meals must include the main course food and (preferably cold) beverages
- Meals may also include side dishes and dessert if desired
- Meals containing meat must also offer a full vegetarian option
- Meals should serve 50 to 60 people
- If an inadequate amount of food is provided, the family may be asked to supplement the meal with additional servings immediately
- Leftovers may be left at Premier for later consumption or sent home at the end of the day (please indicate at drop-off).
- All serving dishes and utensils that should be returned MUST be labeled
- Please include: plates, napkins, and silverware for 60 people, and cups, or bowls if necessary
- The Team will NOT Provide: ice, a way to keep food hot, a way to keep food cold, Serving Utensils, Condiments, Dressings or seasonings

3. Special Food Needs and Food Preferences:

- The Team and its members cannot guarantee that any food item, whether provided by individual families or present at any Team meeting or Event, will be free of ingredients that may cause allergic reactions in any individual(s). The Team and its Mentors will not be policing for items that may cause allergic reactions, and cannot insure that these products will not be brought to the Team's Facility or Team Events.
- The Team will not be held responsible for providing supplementary meals to Students with allergies, special food needs, or specific food preferences. Students with special food needs should consult the Meal Sign-Up Document to determine if meal(s) are appropriate, and take time to plan alternative options for themselves in advance.
- Individuals with special food needs may not insist that others provide meals to meet their needs, but may submit a document to Brandi that includes list of items that may cause reactions, which will be made publically available to all Team members. Families may elect to consult this list when preparing their meals, and may freely choose which ingredients to include or omit.

4. Setting Up and Cleaning Up for Meals:

- The family providing the meal is responsible for setting it up at their assigned, date, time and location (see PRO Calendar)
